Where is the Lake District? This visit began with a short introduction to the geography of the UK, followed by a mini biography of Beatrix Potter, her "Tale of Peter Rabbit", and finally a brief explanation of The National Trust. I hope that photographs of the beautiful Southern Lake District, and another one of Beatrix with her sheepdog "Kep", together with the enchanting story and skillfully drawn pictures of the "Tale of Peter Rabbit" left a lasting impression on the pupils. Beatrix donated a lot of land and property to The National Trust: she realized the importance of preserving nature.
